MINE

Workers Are Now in Session

As Last Resort

Only, Will Miners Permit General Strike.

Mitchell Seems to Have the Situation Well in Hand.

Action Will Probably be Taken to Curtail the Output From All of the Bituminous Mines.

Indianapolis July 17.—The United Mine Workers assembled in national convention here to discuss the question of ordering a general strike in aid of the anthracite miners of Pennsylvania.

The sentiment among the delegates as far as it can be determined from those who are already here, is against a strike. John P. Reese, president of the Iowa miners, declares that he is for a strike only as a last resort. J. W. Howe, president of the Tennessee miners, will not declare himself, saying he will use his best judgment, but the members of his delegation say that they are not in favor of a strike if it can be avoided. Dan J. Young, president of the Maryland delegation takes the same position as Mr. Howe, and his followers say as do those of the Tennessee man that he does not wish a strike if they can keep out of it. The Missouri men are against a strike and are instructed to fight against it on the floor of the convention. Alexander Patterson, who represents the Colorado miners, says that he does not favor a strike only as a last resort. Indiana men are against a strike. The delegates from Illinois are partly unaligned, and others have instructions against a strike.

Having the vote upon the law of the organization requiring the vote to be based upon the average paid up membership for the three months preceding the month in which the convention is held, the vote will be about as follows:

Anthracite No. 1 (anthracite) 336 votes, No. 2 117, No. 3 277. Total 730 anthracite votes.

Central Pennsylvania district (bituminous) 180 votes. Pittsburgh district, 102 (Ohio 228 Indiana 180), 19 Indiana (bituminous) 72. Illinois 114. Kansas 34, Colorado 14, Maryland 4, Virginia and West Virginia 44, Tennessee 11, Alabama 44, Arkansas and Indian Territory, 44, Kentucky 20, Michigan 22, Missouri 29. Total bituminous 1,415. Grand total 1,745.

The action of the convention is uncertain, although the situation indicates that there will be no walkout of the soft coal men. There are so many circumstances, however, that may change the situation, that speculation regarding the result of the convention is practically worthless. If President Mitchell would declare his personal preference it would not be difficult to forecast the outcome. At present he controls the situation absolutely, and can swing the delegates either way. He will not say openly what he believes, however, asserting that it is the province of the delegates to decide regarding the strike, and that while he is willing to advise, under no circumstances will he assume to dictate to the convention what it shall do.

If no strike is ordered by the convention it is likely that action will be taken with the object of curtailing the output of soft coal, and every effort will be made to keep it out of the anthracite region. To this end the bituminous men will decide to work five hours a day, and no more coal will be mined than is necessary. If it is decided that this policy can be carried out the chances of a strike will be greatly lessened.

TOOK STRYCHNINE

But the Motive That Impelled It Has Not Been Discovered.

Dover, N. Y., July 17.—An autopsy performed on the body of Miss Emma King, the young woman who allowed Dr. Geo. D. Barney of Brooklyn, some months ago to inoculate her with germs of tuberculosis, revealed the fact that Miss King did not have and never did have consumption. Death was found to be due to strychnine poisoning but whether the death had been taken by compulsion or with the idea of suicide has not developed. Little was known in Miss King's efforts that indicated she had been in such a love trouble. Miss King has been identified as Mrs. Emma D. Trayer.

LARGE CROP

Expected by Berry Growers This Year.

Boston, Mass., July 17.—Reports from cranberry growers of the Cape Cod and Plymouth sections indicate that the crop this season will be larger than for many years. There are hundreds of acres of new bogs in bearing condition and all these are heavily blossomed and give promise of bearing a big crop. The season will begin about the last of next month and continue six weeks. The early berries will be shipped to the markets of the west, which during the past few years have been found to be the best that the growers have ever had.

PROMINENT

Lawyers are Addressing the Dakota Brethren.

Chautauque, N. D., July 17.—The annual meeting of the North Dakota State Bar Association which opened here today is the best attended gathering of its kind ever held in the state. Corbin, both of the University of Law, who took as their subject education and administration to the bar. Officers for the year will be chosen tomorrow.

Both Sides Confident

San Francisco, July 17.—An ever increasing confidence in the training camps of both James J. Jeffries and Robert Fitzsimmons is the result of the steadily favoring the former, and a sale of seats for the big battle far surpassing anything known to local pugilistic history are the important features of the fight situation here. Under a blinding sun Jeffries sailed forth and sprinted around Lake Merritt in Oakland after working in the Reliance club gymnasium for two hours. Fitzsimmons also took a jaunt on the road but confined himself to the most part to sunbathing and vigorous footwork. The sale of seats is proceeding briskly, the receipts showing that nearly $5,000 has been taken in at Harry Corbett's place. The betting shows Jeffries to be a steady favorite, the prevailing odds being 2 to 1.

Dedication at Stony Point

Stony Point, N. Y., July 17.—Over 15,000 persons witnessed the exercises here which marked the dedication of the Stony Point battlefield state reservation on the 123d anniversary of the capture of Stony Point by the American forces. The exercises were held under the auspices of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation society (custodian), with the cooperation of the Empire State society, Sons of the American Revolution and the Rockland county citizens committee.

The Toledo Bee, one of the cleanest, brightest newspapers in Ohio, has passed entirely into the ownership of N. G. Cochran, who on Monday purchased Mr. Obi's interest in the property. Mr. Cochran's friends are extending congratulations to him upon having acquired this valuable property.

The beef combine has taken charge of one of the greatest industries of the country, as shown by a census bulletin statement of the growth of the slaughterhouse and beef-packing business. Its growth has been wonderful. In fifty years the capital invested has grown from $3,482,000 to $189,192,000, the value of the product has increased from $11,000,000 to $755,562,000. The wage earners increased from $276 to $6,534. This gives an idea of the great prize the beef trust proposes to manage in its own way and for its own benefit at the expense of the 70,000,000 consumers.

Lima should make a diligent effort to secure the annual meeting of the Dunkards next season. The committee which will have the authority to determine the question of location for next season will be in session early in August, and we should be prepared by that time to guarantee them the assistance they want. To have 60,000 people visit Lima and remain here for five days is a proposition that should be carefully looked after as it means much for the business men of the City, in addition to being of great advantage to Lima in general as a medium of being more prominently before the public the advantages of the best town in Ohio.

At this moment the Democrats of Allen county are notable to see where in the brethren from Auglaize county have given them any equivalent for the assistance which Allen county gave them in securing the nomination and election of two Congressmen, one for three terms and one for two terms, two State Senators for two terms each, a Common Pleas Judge and a Circuit Judge, and other officers too numerous to mention. Allen county has a large vote in district conventions and has helped her sister counties into many good offices, but they failed to reciprocate at the Wapak Convention at a time when six votes would have nominated Adkin.

BLANK

For Two Crimes Credited by Witnesses

To the Colored Man Who Managed to Escape.

Thirteen-Year-Old Guller Girl Now Says That Dickson, the Prisoner, is Not the Man Who Assaulted Her.

The case in mayor's court against Fred Dickson, colored, who was arrested last Saturday night and charged with having enticed the thirteen-year-old Lillie Guller, also colored, to remain over night with him in a barn came up this afternoon, and contrary to her former statements the girl testified that the prisoner was not the man but that the guilty person had given her his name as Dickson. It developed during the hearing that Dickson, the prisoner, and George Allen, the man who was shot by another colored man on south Main street on Wednesday of last week, and one Henry Griffin, who did the shooting, all came here from Chicago and since Griffin managed to escape after the shooting he is now charged with both crimes. Both Dickson and the girl were remanded to jail and the case will be investigated further.

Met With Little Opposition. London, July 17.—All the Morgan and Yerkes bills providing for the construction of underground tube railroads in London were handed down by a select committee of the house of lords and passed their second reading in the house of commons by large majorities. The debate in the commons was listened to by a crowded house. The galleries were also filled in expectation of a heated discussion, but in this the listeners were disappointed, the opposition to the scheme being rather listless.

Fire Uncontrollable. Jennings, La., July 17.—The fire which attacked the oil storage tanks here is still uncontrollable. No progress has been made in conquering the flames and it is feared they are getting stronger. The chemical engine which arrived from Beaumont was tried, but it did not even quench the fire in the small streams that extend from the blazing pool.

To Reduce Asiatic Squadron. Washington, July 17.—The navy department ordered the Isla De Leon, one of the captured Spanish gunboats, now attached to the Asiatic squadron, to San Francisco. POLICE

May Yet Solve the Mystery.

Two Robbers

Who Robbed Young Roy Lippencott

May Turn Out to be Other Young Farmers of the Community.

Four Penny-in-the-Slot Salted Peanut Machines Placed Under Arrest This Afternoon—Mayor's Court.

Early this morning chief of police Mills and detective Hugh Patton drove into the country some distance south east of the city and arrested two young farmers named Howard and Eliza Saycock on warrants that charge them with assault and battery.

The prosecuting witness in this case is Roy Lippencott, the young farmer who was held up and robbed on south Central avenue last Saturday night, and the arrests on charges of assault and battery were only preliminary to a thorough investigation of that highway robbery. Lippencott will appear this evening and will look at the two prisoners to see whether or not he can identify them as the men who robbed him. A young lad named Meeks, who claims to have been relieved of $3 on the same night, may also prove an important witness in the case.

Sam Was "Sassy." Among the prisoners who were arraigned in mayor's court this morning was one who had registered as Sam Eckles and was up on a charge of drunkenness. He was fined $5 and when the mayor proceeded to take the amount out of $6 that the prisoner had when arrested the latter declared that they could take him but couldn't take his money. The $5 was appropriated however and Sam was given an extra dose of ten days imprisonment.

Other Cases. Harry Steel, charged with drunkenness was fined $5.

Curley Campbell, charged with assault and battery pleaded not guilty and the case was set for hearing next Monday.

The proprietors of the Penny House was fined $10 and Walter Miller and Eva Ford were each fined $5 each for disorderly conduct.

Peanut Machines. This afternoon officer Frank Grant and special officer Ed. Titus arrested four penny-in-the-slot machines that were standing on the streets dealing out a handful of salted peanuts for a penny. The machines belonged to a stranger and when inquiry was made as to the cause of their being carried to the police station the reply was made that they had no right on the streets. The police are now looking for the owner of the machines.

No warrants have yet been issued for the arrest of the nickel-in-the-slot gambling machines or their owners.

GRABER

Received a Big Ovation at Greenville

When He Reached His Home City Last Evening.

Was Met at the Depot by Band and Drum Corps and by Hundreds of His Fellow Townsmen and Friends.

Harvey C. Graber, Democratic nominee for Congress from the Fourth district, arrived at his home in Greenville from Wapakoneta last evening. He was warmly congratulated by a couple of thousand people with bands and drum corps. A long procession was formed, with Mr. Graber in the first carriage with leading Democratic politicians.

The procession marched to the nominee's home, where he was first greeted by his amiable wife and neighbors. He then made a speech outlining the policy he would pursue if elected to Congress, and concluded by thanking his friends and neighbors for the warm reception tendered him. His remarks were followed by speeches from George W. Mannix, Jr., of Greenville, and Charles Marshall, of Sidney, after which hundreds of people pressed forward and grasped his hand. With Mr. Graber's election Darke county will have four citizens who have served in Congress. C. M. Anderson was the last man elected from that county.

THE Y. M. C. A.

Has the Largest Membership it Ever Had.

The Young Men's Christian Association has had a large membership for the past three years but they now have the largest they ever had by almost 100. The privileges are used by nearly all and there are times when the baths are crowded with men so that they have to wait for their turn. The trustees are planning to make more room if possible. There is a small room that can be used for this, then the basement will be raised to its utmost. We believe it is only a matter of a few years when the building must be enlarged. Lima is growing and the association is keeping up with that growth.

The Lima association had a larger work than any city of its size last year and the expense was less than those with a smaller work; talk speaks for itself.

There has been organized a new department in the association, which will be known as the Intermediate Department. It has been organized to reach a large number of boys from 14 to 17 years of age. Some additional privileges have been added to make it more beneficial than the Junior Department. Boys interested should call and get a prospectus of their department; they are free.

The campers return Saturday morning at 2 o'clock.

There are between 60 and 70 per cent of our members employed in the shops of this city.

DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED.

Wimodaghsis Circle No. 1, that was reorganized July 10, was charmingly entertained at the beautiful new home of Mrs. A. S. Bower Wednesday afternoon with a membership of sixteen. Some novel pieces of needle work were exhibited, among which were several shirt waists embroidered by the natives of Manila. This circle will meet with Mrs. Cizbie, 327 north Collet street, July 24.

I. O. O. F. NOTICE.

All members of Golden Gate lodge are earnestly requested to meet at their lodge room at 7:30 this evening to make arrangements for the funeral of our sister Emma Williams. The Shawnee and Estella Rebekahs are also requested to attend. By order of LIZZIE RUMBAUGH.

COLUMBUS GROVE.

Democratic Central Committee Organized.

Prof. James E. Barnett, a Former Columbus Grove Man, Came to His Home in Delaware.

Columbus Grove, O., July 17.—The Democrats of the county held a roving meeting at Ottawa, yesterday for the purpose of reorganization. The meeting was held in the forenoon at the court house. A. F. Sandles, that old-time Democrat, now clerk of courts of Putnam county, a member of the state board of agriculture and secretary of the Putnam county fair, was elected chairman of the central committee. Andrew F. Liggett, of the Putnam County Sentinel, was elected secretary.

Hon. T. J. Miller, one of Putnam county's well known instructors, lecturers and speakers at farmers' meetings, has purchased a large tract of land in Michigan and expects to locate in that state in the very near future. Mr. Miller formerly owned extensive tracts near Leipsic.

Friends of the Rice guards have received information to the effect that the boys are nicely located at Camp William McKinley, at the state grounds near Newark, Ohio, and while scarcely settled to the routine of camp life, the boys are enjoying the early portion of the stay very much.

The fire laddies, at the regular monthly meeting, received the umbrellas and badges used upon the occasion of the Northwestern Ohio Firemen's convention at Defiance. C. B. Morris was appointed property holder in charge of the articles for the ensuing year.

Bids for the sale of $15,000 worth of four and one-half per cent. bonds will be received at the office of the village clerk, M. D. Long, until next Monday noon, July 21. The bonds are issued for the purpose of purchasing the electric light plant.

Bricklaying on the improvement of Pendleton, Broadway and Railroad streets has progressed as far as the intersection of Cross street. Sycamore street, at the intersection of Broadway is now torn up preparatory to improvement.

Work on the Stirlen block has reached an advanced stage. S. W. Stirlen is able to be about to note the progress of the building.

The bricklayers who went out on a strike for higher wages all returned to work at the old scale, but four. Two quit of their volition and two were dismissed. Contractor Bogart made no concessions and the wages of $1.20 a day will prevail.

Rev. W. V. Davis has been secured as one of the speakers at the annual picnic and outing of the United Brethren Sunday schools of western Putnam county and eastern Paulding county, to be held at Cascade on next Thursday, July 24. Many years ago Rev. Mr. Davis delivered his first sermon to the people of that community, while on the Oakwood, Ohio, charge.

Mrs. Clauson, of Rushmore, was a guest at the home of Architect L. E. Mullen on last evening.

Prof. James H. Barnett, who has spent a part of the vacation season with his mother and other relatives, left last night for Leipsic, where he will join his wife and daughter, Helen and visit until Saturday, when the family goes to Findlay to spend a time, after which they will leave for their home in Delaware. The professor will finish the scientific course at the Ohio Wesleyan this year, having done two years' work in one in some instances. Prof. Barnett was prior to his removal to Delaware, one of Putnam county's foremost educators, having been principal of the local high school many years, as well as one of the county school examiners. He is a self-made man, and is one of the brightest products Putnam county ever turned out. Prior to marriage, Mrs. Barnett was a prominent teacher, having taught in Leipsic and vicinity for years.

THE INDIANA FIELD

Is Not Startling the World With New Developments.

There is Activity with the Drill, But the New Wells Finished Are Not of the Large Producing Variety.

McKisson & Argue have completed a good well on the H. Fogel farm, in section 30 of Jefferson township, Adams county, Indiana. It was their No. 3, and after being shot put 125 barrels of oil into the tank in 24 hours. In the same section of Jefferson, Weldon & Shiner encountered a dry hole at their test well on the N. Anspaugh farm.

In Blue Creek township, the Ohio Oil company's No. 1, on Carry Evans has been completed, and made a production of 40 barrels at the outset.

Grant County Work. Paul & Stubler have drilled in their first well on a town lot in the southwestern portion of Marion, setting a good producer as a result of their initial venture in the Hooser field. Their first well is located in a lot in section 12 of Franklin township, and after being shot, it produced 60 barrels in 24 hours.

On an adjoining tract the Slave Oil company has completed its first well on the Joseph Clayton property, setting a producer with an initial output of 90 barrels.

Johns & Case have two wells in operation in what is known as the Empire addition, in the same section and township, their No. 1, making 50 barrels while No. 11, was good for 80.

The Marion Fruit Jar Co. is also operating in this section No. 6 on the N. Cogswell farm having been completed last week with a production of 30 barrels. The La Fontaine No. 7 on his own property was finished up a 1-barrel. The former company also has a 7-barrel producer in No. 2, A. Norton, section 1 and La Fontaine has a 20-barrel No. 1, M. F. F. section 14.

In Center Township, the Marion Fruit Jar Co. has drilled two wells on the M. C. Smith farm, another on the S. H. A. Norton farm, section 7. The former was No. 1 with an initial output of 40 barrels, while the latter was No. 2 with an initial output of 50 barrels.

The Ohio Oil Co. has drilled a 1-barrel producer No. 10 on the Thomas Hay farm, section 1, and No. 1, R. F. section 2.

The Central Oil Company's test on the Lessor's farm, section 1, on the property of J. C. Fenton, produced 10 barrels.

The Van Buren Field. And in Van Buren township, as in many other, there are present indications which promise the good record established for the month of June. The new wells are as a rule, fair producers, with some better than the general average.

The Ohio Oil Company's Landless farm lease in section 6 has been supplying some first class wells, No. 5, which has just been completed, had an initial production of 100 barrels in the same section No. 12, on the J. S. Sanderman, had a production of 70 barrels at the start. The same company has completed No. 7, M. H. Johnson, section 17, which was good for 15 barrels and No. 1, J. & M. Tinkle, section 19, which started on with a 50-barrel production.

The Western Oil Company has three wells completed, none of which was more than an ordinary producer. On the L. A. Schultz farm, section 9, their No. 2 made 30 barrels the first 24 hours, No. 3, D. F. Lessor, section 10 was a 10-barrel well, and No. 12, A. Lindsay, section 10 was a 10-barrel well.

In the latter section the Hunt Oil Company's No. 3 Mike Zent came in the last of the week with an output of 20 barrels. The Acme Oil Company's test on the E. W. Crevelton, section 10, is making salt water, and E. O. Emerson is troubled with the same useless stuff at his No. 4, Mary Korporel, section 16. On the W. F. Leas property, section 13, the Sun Oil Company drilled a test which made but 5 barrels the first 24 hours.

Results in Washington. A gasser which is reported as flowing at the rate of 1,000,000 feet was encountered by the Ohio Oil Company at a test well drilled on the J. A. Howard farm, section 23, Washington township. The same company's No. 5, M. E. Bradford, section 12 produced 60 barrels of oil the first day.

The Southwest Petroleum Co. have three new wells in the Washington township district No. 3, Perry Corey, section 12, making 40 barrels No. 6, C. A. Brown, section 30, doing 27, and No. 5, F. & M. E. Howard, section 35, having an initial production of 80 barrels.

The Marion Gas Co. has completed the second well on Frank Hays' property, section 35, which is a 10-barrel producer at the outset.

Wells County Producers.

Some excellent results are reported from operations in Wells county, the lack of dusters in a large number of completions being noticeable. The Hudson Oil Company has a new 75 barrel producer in its No. 10, W. Hudson, section 10, while the Logan Oil Company got one of the same calibre at No. 4, A. Logan, in section 6, Jackson township. In section 2 of the same township, the Reserve Oil Company's No. 7, G. R. Huffman, made 12 barrels as a starter, and in section 3, the Griffin Oil Company has a 60-barrel well in its No. 7, Wm. Mienich OIL MARKET.

A Rest From the Toil and Worries of Life.

Henry Castle Retires From Business and Celebrates His Seventieth Birthday.

Once a year on the 17th of July Henry Castle the veteran blacksmith, has a birthday. There is nothing unusual about that as birthdays roll around to everybody within every 365 days but when it comes to Mr. Castle's his friends are made aware of the fact and are invited to enjoy his unbounded hospitality.

A month ago Mr. Castle retired from business after an active life at the forge and today, in his 70th year, he is as stalwart and active as one of middle age. He has earned the years of pleasure and enjoyment that the future promises and can look back on the past as full of the fruits of an honest and well-spent life.

His son, A. D. Castle, and the other boys about the establishment fixed things to suit themselves this morning and the entrance to the shop was decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the three score years and ten. During the day, Mr. Castle, who has made a host of friends during his 16 years residence in Lima, left an open invitation for them to call, and many of them took advantage of the opportunity to wish their host all of the happy returns of the day and partake of the refreshments so liberally offered.

AMID FLOWERS

The Beautiful Ceremony was Performed.

Marriage of Miss Alice White and Mr. G. J. Adami.

The Bride has Many Friends in Lima, Some of Whom were in Attendance at the Wedding.

Delaware, Ohio, July 17.—A wedding which possesses considerable interest to many residents of Lima was celebrated in this city Wednesday evening, in the presence of but a few friends of the contracting parties.

The bride was Miss Alice Ann White, the accomplished daughter of Mr. J. W. White, and the groom was Mr. George J. C. Adami, a prominent young man of Boston, Mass. The nuptial ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. H. Styles at the home of the bride's father at 8 o'clock, and though unattended by any ostentatious display, was an event in the society circles of Delaware.

The residence was tastefully decorated with palms and cut flowers, the prevailing color scheme being in pink and white. The bride was accompanied by Miss Elma Snider, of Marysville, maid of honor, and Miss Katherine Snider, of Lima. With the groom were Mr. William Poppleton and Dr. L. F. Diggins, both of Delaware.

In the reception hall and other rooms of the house floral decorations abounded, and in the drawing room, where the ceremony took place, an arch of asparagus and similar lent additional beauty to the pleasant scene. The wedding party entered while Lohengrin's march was being played by Miss Switzer, a cousin of the bride.

The bride's dress was a beautiful creation of white mousselin, adorned with ribbons and lace, while Miss Snider wore point de spirit trimmed in ribbon, over pink silk, and Miss Oxley was becomingly gowned in pink crepe de chene over pink silk.

After the wedding ceremony had been concluded a delicious luncheon was served, and later Mr. and Mrs. Adami departed for Buffalo, whence they will journey through Canada to Old Orchard, Me., and thence to Boston, where they will reside.

The bride has been a popular favorite in Delaware and vicinity, where, as a student in the Ohio Wesleyan university, she achieved high honors as a vocalist, possessing a voice of rare excellence and culture.

Among the guests present from a distance were Mrs. J. C. Springfield, Newport, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Sellers and Miss Gordon, Washington, D. C.; Prof. and Mrs. Barrington, Columbus, O.; Miss Anna Aiken, Milford Center, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Hagarty and Miss Hagarty, New York; Mrs. William King and others, Miners Katherine and Margaret, of New York; J. H. Atwood, Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. A. White and daughter, Miss Pearl of Columbus; Mrs. T. A. Oxley and daughter, Miss Katherine Oxley, of Lima.

The bride has a large circle of friends in Lima, where she has resided for a considerable period, and where she took part in several entertainments which won for her merited approbation from the music loving people of that city. Sincere congratulations will be extended by all their friends.

BALFOUR AND SALISBURY

Stories of England's New Premier and His Predecessor.

THE FORMER A DEVOTEE OF GOLF

Once indulged his passion for the sport on a railway depot platform—How he became the victim of a St. Patrick's Day joke—When Balfour Blacklock's boots—striking incidents of Lord Salisbury's memory.

A great many folks who are familiar with the name of the Right Hon. Arthur James Balfour as one of England's most illustrious statesmen and the new premier of Great Britain also know that golf is the game invariably preferred by that gentleman when seeking relaxation from parliamentary duties. So ardent, indeed, is his passion for that beautiful sport that he has been seen to practice the movements of the game on the oddest occasions, as the following amusing incident will serve to show, says the Golden Post.

Some time ago the distinguished politician was standing on the departure platform at Paddington station, London, waiting for the Windsor train. In his hand he carried a beautiful gold-mounted umbrella, on which he leaned idly at first.

Suddenly, as eye caught a man in a dark coat, the politician followed it, leaving just the end in his hand. The waiting crowd on the platform roared with laughter as the Conservative leader dived into a first class compartment.

When he was first lord of the treasury, Mr. Balfour was once made the victim of a rather effective St. Patrick's day joke. On the occasion alluded to an oak box about ten inches long was sent to him at the house of commons. On this being opened a sprig of shamrock with a card bearing the inscription, "From a sincere admirer," was disclosed to view, and through a layer of some compound a steel spring could be seen, says Cassell's Magazine. Mr. Balfour is well known for his extreme coldness and soon of seeming danger, but the whole thing was so strongly suggestive of an infernal machine of the worst description that the services of an expert were immediately requisitioned.

When the expert arrived, Mr. Balfour joined him in his endeavor to solve the baffling mystery. At first both were puzzled but the expert, having placed a particle of the compound on his tongue, discovered that it was only powdered sugar, flavored with lemon. The box was inverted, and out tumbled an old cork-crow, a spiral spring, a well worn nutmeg grater and a piece of paper, on which was written, "May the whisky yourself. You can then connect the famous knowledge of Ballybho."

During the American civil war and consequent cotton famine in Lancashire Lady Blanche Balfour, the mother of Mr. Arthur James and Gerald Balfour was greatly moved by the tales of suffering coming from the affected districts. She subscribed handsomely to the relief fund and told her children that if they liked to assist in the household work the money saved in that way should go to help the distressed people. The kitchen was handed over to Lady Blanche's daughters under the supervision of the housekeeper, and they did the family cooking at Wingham House. Her son Arthur, now England's premier, and Gerald had a portion of housework allotted to them, such as cleaning the boots and knives. The help sent to the Lancashire relief fund was increased by the amount thus saved in the household expenses and if you ask Mr. Balfour for an anecdote of his childhood he refers to his mother's action in helping the poor in Ireland.

An amusing manifestation of Mr. Balfour's absentmindedness occurred one evening in the house of commons, says an exchange. He had just finished a neat little speech, introducing the private procedure bill, and was about to leave the house when the speaker hurriedly whispered to him: "Bring up the bill."

But Mr. Balfour had forgotten all about this part of his task. Mr. Balfour was without his bill.

"Take a dummy," whispered the speaker, and the clerk at the table accordingly handed him a copy of the orders of the day. That was white in color and could not be mistaken for a bill by any possibility, so the minister shook his head. But a happy thought occurred to the clerk.

The journals of the house are printed on blue paper, so he took a copy up at random and thrust it into the minister's hand who returned to the bar and returned with the "bill" bows. The clerk scribbled on the back of the journal the names of those who had brought in the bill, and the forms of the house were adequately satisfied.

It was Balfour who initiated the practice of going on tour through the congested districts of the west of Ireland which has been followed by his successors in the chief secretaryship of Ireland, says the Philadelphia Press. Arthur Balfour once entered a cottage and, not being recognized, was treated with hospitality which is always accorded to strangers in Ireland. When the woman of the house discovered who her guest was, she was at first rather taken aback, but her natural politeness reassured itself and she said: "Well, had as ye are, yer honor's welcome." At this period Mr. Balfour was so unpopular in Ireland that the late Father Hooley of Bray remarked to him, "If the people hated the devil as much as they hate you, my occupation would be gone."

Scotland loves him as truly as Ireland does. Nearly every university within her borders has honored him with office or degree. Throughout England he is respected and valued. Mr. Morley and he are united by close bonds of mutual good will, and Gladstone had always a high opinion of him.

It was that Grand Old Man who once said, "He is fit to lead a nation."

It has been said that Mr. Balfour has autocratic tendencies, but that is not true, for he meets on terms of friendship and equality every one who is cultured and refined, no matter what their birth, says the Boston Herald. His constituents and his tenants are devoted to him, and his private character can be termed a very lovable one. He treats his subordinates with a charm of manner and courtesy which raises them to his own level. To his servants and inferiors he is always so polite that by his very politeness he sets a gulf between them.

An amusing story is told of his instructions to his butler, who had been in his service for some years and who, he discovered, was in the habit of helping himself to his cigars. He brought two different brands and placed them in his cigar box and, pointing to the better quality, said to his man, "When you take my cigars, Johnson, please take these." This story illustrates the character of the man.

Here is a story of Lord Salisbury which exhibits the experience in that best of lights, the ability not to forget old friends, says the Family Herald.

In his struggling days Lord Salisbury and a certain pressman worked in the same room and in the small hours used to send out for beer and sandwiches or bread and cheese for two, paying for them each in turn. On one occasion the pressman paid on two successive nights, and, as it happened, it was the last two nights they worked together. Lord Salisbury never again appeared in that room, and the next thing the pressman knew of his quondam colleague was that he had become direct heir to the title to which he ultimately succeeded.

Years rolled on, and the two did not meet. As all the world knows, Lord Salisbury accompanied Lord Beaconsfield, then Mr. Disraeli, as fellow plenipotentiary to the Berlin conference assembled to rearrange the map of Europe at the end of the Russo-Turkish war. The pressman also journeyed to Berlin as special correspondent for his paper. Being desirous of obtaining exclusive information, he sent in his card to the British plenipotentiaries. Instead, as he expected, of being handed over to one of the private secretaries, he was shown into Lord Salisbury's presence and greeted with the words: "Look here, B. I'm still owing you for that last bread and cheese that we had together. Sit down and have a glass of wine with me and tell me how I can serve you. The pressman told him in the event was enabled to accomplish what is called a "see-off."

Lord Salisbury's real preoccupation has been public business, and personal interests sit lightly upon him in the presence of affairs. There is a story which the foreign office people are fond of telling, says the Pall Mall Magazine. One day, in the midst of a diplomatic crisis, papers were brought to him by Mr. X, and were discussed. Exit Mr. X, and enter Mr. A., who was Lord Salisbury's official scribe, and this dialogue occurs, Lord Salisbury—Mr. A., who is that intelligent young man who has just gone out? Mr. A.—That is Mr. X., one of your lordship's private secretaries.

Lord Salisbury has long been noted for the possession of a remarkable faculty, if it may be so termed, which enables him to detach himself from the everyday world of men and their affairs, says the Brooklyn Eagle. He will not bother recalling a man's name if the recollection involves any mental labor, and it is said that one of his most able assistants in the foreign office has for years been subjected to the humiliation of being addressed by his chief as Mr. Flower or Mr. Fowler or anything other than his real name, which happens to be Foley.

It appears, according to a story that has been floating around London, that the king, Lord Salisbury, the bishop of London and some others were in a room together. Turning to the bishop, the king remarked: "Do you know what Lord Salisbury just said about you? He turned your way and asked who is that young looking cleric?" The bishop laughed somewhat nervously, as though he were embarrassed, and the king continued: "You needn't mind that, my lord. A little while ago I showed him my latest photograph. He examined it carefully for a few moments and then shook his head sadly. Laying the picture down, he said with a sigh, 'Poor old Butler!'"

To Protect the Birds. A European international agreement has been concluded at Paris for the protection of birds useful to agriculture, says an exchange. The parties to the agreement are Belgium, France, Greece, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Monaco, Austria-Hungary, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland and Spain. Among the birds are considered useful are certain nocturnal birds of prey, as well as bee eaters, swallows and several birds of the sparrow species, while ravens, magpies, jays and some others are branded as mischievous. Italy, a country in which the capture of northbound birds is a regular trade, does not appear among the signatories.

One Thing and Another. Feeders and stock cattle are in great demand. Of all scrubs the "pedigreed" scrub is the worst. England is buying American cattle to restock the farms of South Africa.

FARM GARDEN

ORCHARD FUMIGATION.

Apparatus Designed For Fighting San Jose Scale on Peach Trees.

A fumigating device recently worked for the San Jose scale in orchard used in New York is illustrated by Country Gentleman, which tells how it was handled.

The spreading branches were drawn in with a rope, permitting the tents, which are twelve feet in diameter, to drop over the trees. Two trees are fumigated at a time, the apparatus passing between the rows. The tents are hung from the gaffs, which are long enough to serve the purpose.

The tents are drawn up from the bottom and when telescoped are still further lifted to the height of the outer ends of the gaffs and in position to drop over the trees. The tents are then let down as far as they will settle. The smaller the tree the lower they will sink and the less space will remain for the use of the gas. The surplus tent gathers on the ground. Two men can easily handle the apparatus.

The tents are made of light sailcloth, oiled with two coats of boiled linseed oil and dried. They are 12 feet in diameter and 14 feet high. At the top of the tent is a three-quarter inch gas pipe to keep the tent expanded the full diameter at all times. At the bottom of the tent is a three-eighths inch steel hoop for a like purpose. For each tent are four ropes running through a pulley block at the top and outside the tent. These ropes run through the top and down the inside of the tent at the four quarters, through rings to hold them in place, to the hoops at the bottom. This plan telescopes the tent when in use.

A single mast is mortised into a bed piece, firmly attached to a frame, sled-like in form, or it may be fixed to a wagon, and guyed with wire to the corners of the sled. These guy ropes are attached to the top of the mast and are tied to trees, two ahead and one behind.

Two gaffs are fastened to the mast and are each long enough to reach the center of the tents. Pulleys are attached to the gaffs, and ropes are used for lifting the tents and placing them in position. The gaffs can be raised by a rope attached to the mast, thus enabling one to raise the tent in addition to the telescoping described.

CLEAN SUMMER TILLAGE.

Recent Practice on Irrigated Land Is Toward Deeper Cultivation.

Clean summer tillage is almost a universal practice in the fruit regions of the Pacific coast. Tillage, particularly during the dry season of the year, under some conditions directly determines the need of irrigation and is to a certain extent, as the popular phrase goes, a substitute for irrigation. Under all conditions surface tillage, by promoting conservation of soil moisture, is determinative of the actual duty of water, whether it be from rainfall or irrigation. The effect of frequent surface tillage has been accurately determined by investigation and experiment, both in humid and arid regions.

These experiments fully support the view taught by the experience of about half a century in California, in accordance with which thorough winter and summer tillage has been so widely practiced in the arid section as an essential to successful fruit growing. There are, however, some conditions in which clean cultivation during the season of highest heat may not be the best practice.

The relations of tillage to soil moisture include both reception and conservation. For the reception of moisture deep work with the plow and sometimes with the subsoiler also is almost indispensable. To retain this moisture and to prevent as far as possible its escape into the thirsty air of the arid region by surface evaporation less depth and more thorough surface pulverization are required.

Recent practice has been tending toward deeper summer cultivation, so that five or six inches of loose, finely divided soil is now obtained where formerly half that depth was considered adequate. It has also been shown that frequent stirring of this fine surface layer checks evaporation, even when no water is applied to compact the surface or where no weeds grow to draw upon the soil moisture.

In a word, the aim of tillage in the arid region, so far as it relates to moisture supply in the soil, consists in opening the soil to rain or to irrigation and in subsequently closing it to evaporation.

One Thing and Another.

Feeders and stock cattle are in great demand. Of all scrubs the "pedigreed" scrub is the worst.

England is buying American cattle to restock the farms of South Africa.

SHEEP FEEDING.

Finishing Western Wethers on Grass and Grain For Summer Market.

Farmers throughout the central states annually feed and finish for market thousands of sheep. During the past decade a great many farmers have adopted the policy of purchasing western lambs and yearlings during the months of September, October, November and December with the intention of feeding them from 60 to 120 days, depending upon the condition of lambs, markets, etc., and then selling them at an advance in price sufficient to return a nice profit on the investment.

Many sheep feeders claim that one year with another when sheep or lambs are fed on grain and hay that the feeder must have a margin of at least 1 per cent per pound between the buying and selling price to warrant a profit. A careful study of the cost of producing gains on sheep and lambs at this and other stations would indicate that a margin of 1 cent per pound between the buying and selling price is not always necessary.

In summarizing the results of five trials at Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan stations where corn and hay were used, valuing hay at $8 per ton and corn at 35 cents per bushel, each pound of gain was made at a cost of 4 1/2 cents. At this station gains have been made on grass and corn at a cost of less than 2 cents per pound, in which instance the sheep could have been sold without any advance over the buying price and a nice profit realized.

When feed is low in price, the feeder can work on a small margin, and vice versa. Lambs can be handled on a much closer margin than yearlings or older sheep, due to the fact that the younger the animal the better it can utilize its feed. Thus more economical gains are made. More economical gains can also be made during the summer months on grass alone and grass and grain than can be made during the fall and winter months on grain and hay.

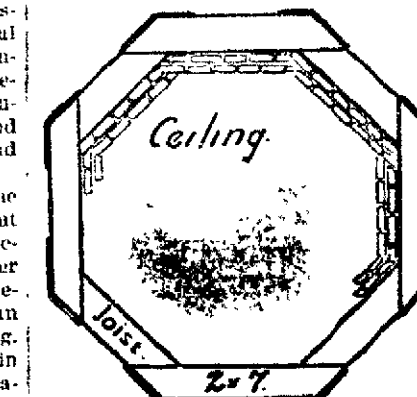

A careful study of the markets during the past few years will reveal the fact that sheep and lambs are usually lower in price during the latter part of April and the first of May than they are during the early part of July, but what is commonly termed "grass stock" arrives on the market. This is due to the fact that most of the western fed lambs are marketed during the month of April and the early part of May. Thus there is usually a period of from six to eight weeks' duration when good sheep are at a premium, as the native lambs do not usually arrive before the middle of July or first of August. This is a factor which the feeder should consider for oftentimes a heavy run will cause a sharp cut in prices when the half fat lambs can be purchased at a price which will warrant the feeder shipping them back to the farm for a forty or sixty days run on a good grass pasture, where they will not only increase in weight, but also in value per pound.—W. J. Kennedy, Iowa Station.

any size wanted. With 2,500 feet of good hemlock boards, 600 2 by 7s, 3 feet long, and $6 worth of felt and nails, three men can build a silo in three days. The expense for roof and bottom would be the same as for any other shape or style.

I got out the lumber for mine, and, paying the saw bill, cement, nails, paper, mason work, and all complete, it cost me $29.70. The silo is 12 feet inside and 24 feet high. It will hold silage enough to feed twelve head of cattle twice a day for six months. When the foundation is completed, place the silos on and nail the corners together. Then set the boards up at the corners and plumb them with a level or plumb staff. Let one man hold the joints on the outside where they belong, place two feet apart, and nail them from the inside. Spike the joints at the corners as you go for the first twelve feet, then put the upper section up the same way. The joints may be sawed the same length with a crosscut saw by bunching them together. By the plan it will be seen that the joints and boards at the corners all have to be the same slant, which is a square meter or an angle of forty-five degrees. ANOTHER INVASION.

Americans to Build New Trolley System in Lima, Ohio.

Not content with gobbling up Great Britain's merchant marine and even putting John Bull out of the beef business, both of which facts have caused amazement to our comrades across the sea, Americans capital is again invading the tight little island, this time with the purpose of controlling transportation by land.

The Philadelphia street railway magnates F. A. B. Widener, W. L. Elkins and Thomas Dolan, who already control the most profitable street railway business in this country, including the lines in Philadelphia, New York, Washington and Pittsburgh have reached across the Atlantic to secure a heretofore vacant field. They are about to begin the construction of a huge system between Liverpool and Manchester, England. The sum to be expended is said to be $20,000,000.

Thomas A. Nevins of New Jersey, who is also interested, has gone to England to superintend the construction of the vast enterprise, this latest "American invasion," as the British prefer to term it.

According to Mr. Nevins, the new line will be 147 miles long. The territory covered has a population of 3,500,000 and embraces some of the wealthiest parts of England's great manufacturing district. The name of the corporation is the South Lancashire Electric Traction and Power Company, Limited.

This group of American capitalists already owns and operates the Chatterton trolley lines, which are exceedingly profitable. Mr. Nevins says the English do not comprehend the tremendous possibilities in electric railways. Concessions were not difficult to secure, and the trolley promoters will have smooth sailing. Liverpool owns its surface railways, and Manchester is building lines. The territory between is unoccupied.

P. A. B. Widener, with another Philadelphia, Clement A. Griscom, was decorated the other day by Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany with the Order of the Red Eagle.

SURPRISED HER FRIENDS.

A Rear Admiral's Daughter Who Married Quietly.

Miss Edythe Skerrett, daughter of the late Rear Admiral Skerrett and formerly a belle at the national capital, has surprised Washington society by quietly wedding Mr. David B. Willis, until recently a crack baseball player of the University of Virginia.

Miss Skerrett has a habit of surprising her friends apparently. She surprised them in December, 1897, when it was announced that she was going on the stage. She made her debut under the management of Mr. Charles Frohman in a small role in "Because She Loved Him So" at the Garden Theater. New York, the following season, Miss Skerrett made a good impression and had been assigned to a more important role in the same piece when she had an attack of nervous prostration and had to leave the stage temporarily to recuperate.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis will live in Memphis, where the young husband has business interests.

RATTLING GOOD ONES.

Three Splendid Races Kept the Crowd Interested from the Start

And Hooped Up the Enthusiasm That Attracted an Overflow of People Today---Lima Horses are Getting a Share of the Purse.

A good sized Wednesday crowd witnessed three good races yesterday afternoon, and carried their enthusiasm away with them. The word of warning, spoken plainly by starter Lehman that the judges expected every race to be a race, and that the first sign of anything that looked un-pleasant, had the effect of inspiring confidence and discouraged any attempt that might have been made to fix the heats. Two of the drivers were noticed carrying their watches in their hands and were promptly called down.

From that moment every horse seemed to be out to win and there was nothing that approached unfairness. Although few heats were required in the three events, there was always something doing to keep the audience on the verge of expectation and to look out for climaxes. Some of the finishes were of the hair-raising order, especially in the 2:23 pace with a field of fifteen. Sidney Byron, owned and driven by Willoughby Snyder, formerly of Lima, was on the boards to win but the talent backed Ted. The latter turned out to be an erratic performer and lost his backers lots of money.

The 2:40 Pace.
The first horses summoned to the track were the eight entered in the 2:40 pace. Pearl Lester, Frank Baxter's handsome bay was clearly the choice both as to the money placed and through local pride. She was considered to be capable of doing the work in straight heats but she shied at an object on the track and broke her gait, losing more ground than she could recover. Billy B was in a position to take advantage of the incident and captured the first heat. Kinmore following and Pearl Lester third. The final had the result, as the summary shows, of shutting Kinmore out of second money.

Second Heat.
Pearl Lester was the play for favorite and her admirers stuck to their positions backing them up with the good form of the realm. That confidence was not misplaced the second heat proved, for the game bay mare beat Billy B for half the distance and then sent around him to the pole. There was no dispute about first position but the struggle for second place between Billy B and Kinmore added excitement to the heat. Kinmore had made his berth there the preceding heat and refused to surrender it. It was a nose to nose finish with the son of Atlantic King an inch to the good.

Third Heat.
There was a surprising change of positions and a slight scare for the backers of the favorite. Doc Smeal kept the Baxter mare in a place ready for a final dispute and handed her an easy winner. She had the pole at the start, which she earned by taking the preceding heat but there was a groan of anguish when Baron boy was seen to come up with steady stride and pass to the front a good length ahead at the half. But he had used up all of his energy in the sprint and proved a quitter before the three quarter pole was reached. He refused to obey the whip and as Pearl Lester again went to the front he looked like he was tied to the track. Four of the pack bunch passed him and turned a bid for honors, finishing a strong second with Little Jim and Kinmore fighting for third position.

Fourth Heat.
It was all over but the shouting after the fourth heat and Doc Smeal was forced to doff his cap in response to the burst of applause following his successful drive of Pearl Lester. The Baxter horse was given a good send off on the second score and got a lead that put her beyond danger. Kinmore kept her in sight but was never close enough to force Smeal to a drive. Virgil C, a brother of Henry Walburn made a nice sprint and was trailing up to the leaders when he lost his gait and disappeared in a display of pyrotechnics. The heat was three seconds slower. Following is the summary:

2:40 Pace—Purse $400
Doc Smeal, b. m., Frank Baxter, Lima	3	1	1
Billy B, g. b., W. W. Toledo	1	2	2
Kinmore, bay, Ft. Wayne	2	2	2
Baron, b. m., Toledo	4	2	4
Virgil C, b. m., Dayton	4	2	4
Little Jim, g. b., Lima	5	2	5
Time—2:40.4; 2:40.4; 2:40.4

The 2:22 Trot.
It required just three heats for Sam Ester to put away the money, but he had a field behind that took him out of a jog and he all but escaped a pocket in the first, slipping in to the wire by a nose between A. J. B. and Jim Fenton. The alphabet led down the stretch but he lacked the inches in his stride when the critical moment arrived.

Second Heat.
Sam Ester got away with a start that looked like an easy brush, but at the 3/4 pole there was a bunch of four that brought the audience to its feet. A. J. B. was pushing the leader for every inch of surface and they came down the stretch like a whirlwind. Near the wire Jim Fenton close behind put on an extra stride and tried to steal on the outside, but the first sting of the whip broke him and he lost his ground. The three in the back bunch did a circus act to hand music at the 3/4 pole, but all came back to earth in time to escape the flag.

Third Heat.
There was a hard drive in the third, the race narrowing down between Sam Ester and A. J. B. but the former was never headed. His game rival kept within reaching distance and was greeted with encouraging yells when the two leaned out for the home stretch. Fenton was again pushed for a final test of speed, but repeated his former high wire act at the critical moment and fell back to third place while Ester shot under the wire a winner.

2:22 Trot—Purse $400
Sam Ester, b. g., Hook, Georgetown, Ky.	1	1	1
A. J. B., g. b., Scott Ross, Toledo	2	2	2
Jim Fenton, b. g., Patterson, Pittsburg	3	3	3
Money Maker, Seymour, Ind.	4	4	4
Fred H. b. g., Lima	4	5	5
Joe K. b. b., Valentine, Columbus	5	5	5
Onaway, b. g., Curtis, Lima	6	7	7
Time—2:22.4; 2:22.4; 2:22.4

The 2:23 Pace.
When the gong sounded the call to the drivers in the 2:23 pace, silks came pouring into the track like ants from a hill. It was the biggest field ever seen on the track for a single race, and starter Lehman before sending them down to score, gave out implicit instructions as to how the drivers should conduct themselves in order to avoid an accident. The horses were driven into three sections of five each, with Sidney Byron, driven by Willoughby Snyder to lead at the pole. The rear section was sent back to the hundred yard line and then the bunch came thundering to the wire. Several scores were made before they got off, but considering the size of the field, starter Lehman handled them like the veteran that he is. Sidney Byron held the pole for the first quarter when Fred Wilkes, with a burst of speed swept around him and took the lead. But the Wilkes horse had spent all of his energy and proved a quitter of the worst kind. Faintly of the whip he shied off his steam and let nearly all the trailers pass him, only recovering enough wind to finish sixth.

Second Heat.
Ted had been played as the favorite and that he was in part deserving of that consideration was proven by his wonderful work in the second. Starting twelfth, he crept up slowly but surely and just when Sidney Byron seemed to have the heat clinched, there was a yell from the crowd and the bay gelding shot under the wire half a length to the good. There was a scramble amid the shout of applause as a break was made to cash in on the heat, and it was the popular opinion that Ted would have no trouble in winning the race. Those who backed that opinion only helped to swell the profits of the bookies as results proved.

Third Heat.
Starting with the pole and cheered by his backers Ted set a pace that was hard to follow. Directly and Sidney Byron went after him and the crowding he got forced him from his steady gait to a run which he kept up for such a distance that the judges in spite of his finishing first, set him back to last place, awarding the heat to Sidney Byron.

Fourth Heat.
Snyder now had two heats, but the talent continued to bolster up their hopes that Ted would settle down and do what he was capable of. But it was hoping against hope, as Sidney Byron was out to win and there was nothing erratic in the brown mare's constitution. Nancy Sykes, with a past record that put money in her owner's pocket, hadn't been heard of until the third heat, when the judges fixed her position in second place. Pleased with the promise of a share of the money Hill drove the mare for keeps and she assisted Directo in keeping the last heat in doubt. She finished second and by so doing got third money. The summary shows the relative positions of the fifteen starters, not one of which were drawn from the race:

2:23 Pace—Purse $400

A Matter to Be Overlooked.

Ask But Little

And Lima is Well Able to Give it All.

Committee of Dunkards Meet August 1st to Decide on the Location.

And Lima is the Point Desired Owing to Her Railroad Facilities—Board of Trade Has the Matter in Hand.

Lima is a big city and her hospitality, especially when it comes to doing business on a large scale, has been tested and never found wanting. At present there is clamoring at her doors a host of people that represent a following of many thousands and everything depends on the methods employed whether or not these same people will gain admittance.

The Times-Democrat some time ago announced the fact that the next annual meeting of the German Baptists, or Dunkards would be held in Northwestern Ohio, and that there was a splendid chance for Lima to secure it. Since then the committee appointed to choose the location has been looking over the best sites and yesterday they came to Lima to meet representative citizens. Every courtesy was shown the gentlemen and one objection was quickly nailed to the floor. Somebody with audacious intent, possibly from a rival city, started the report that the Lima water wasn't fit to drink. An acknowledgment was made that the water is not very good for bellies but the health condition of the city which is entirely free from either malaria or typhoid is sufficient proof that the contents of the reservoir are pure and effective enough when it comes to aiding digestion.

The committee asks for very little considering that the visitors for a week will average 50,000 or more each day. A free place to pitch their tents, which the fair grounds will satisfy free light and a concession from the street railway company for reduced fares is about all the demands made and Lima is certainly in a position to meet the situation.

One reason the committee offers for being anxious to hold next year's meeting here, is the advantage Lima has over all other towns in northwestern Ohio in the way of railroad facilities. It is not necessary to enlarge on that point as the country at large is already aware of it. It behooves the board of trade and all interested persons to get together on this proposition as soon as possible, and when the committee meets in Postoria August 1, Lima should have her pleadings so shaped that they will not permit of a demurrer.

Terminates Illness of R. M. Funk.

Passed Away Early Last Evening.

Funeral Services Will be Held at the Late Residence of the Deceased Tomorrow Afternoon at 2 O'clock.

R. M. Funk, one of Lima's veteran merchants, who had been identified with the history of this city and county for more than three score years, died at his late home, 232 North West street, at 7:30 o'clock last evening, death resulting from dropsy, after an illness of long duration.

The deceased was born in Virginia and came to Allen county when a boy 4 years of age. He resided on a farm until the age of 21 years, then came to Lima and engaged in business as a merchant and stockman. He then became prominent in business circles and the block on North Main street bearing his name is an evidence of his energy and success. In 1858 he married Eliza Hartford and two children survive him—James R. Funk and Mrs. George Connor, both of whom were at the bedside when death occurred. Deceased was aged 71 years, 7 months and 26 days.

Will be the Home of J. W. McMahon.

Will Leave the Service of the Buckeye P. L. Co.

And Will Accept a New Position as Superintendent of the Northwestern Ohio Natural Gas Company.

James W. McMahon, for the past eight years connected with the Buckeye Pipe Line Company as superintendent of the field department, has been appointed superintendent of the Northwestern Ohio Natural Gas Company with headquarters in Toledo. The change will necessitate the removal of Mr. McMahon and his family to the residence of the company. During their residence in this city Mr. McMahon has proven himself a good citizen, who always took an active part in the welfare of the community and his wife, who has been always at the proper time, was a constant aid to the good and well being of the party. Mr. McMahon and his family have made many warm friends in this city, who are sorry to part with them but all of whom rejoice over the advancement of Mr. McMahon's position in life. All unite in saying that Lima is in Toledo's gain and all wish for them a prosperous future in their new home.
